DR. RAINEY'S BRIDGE PLANA

The Sinking Fund Committee Calls for More Intermation Before Acting.

Mayor Gilroy, Comptroller Myers, and Alderman Brown of the Sinking Fund Commission met in the Mayor's office yesterday to consider the application of the New York and Long Island Bridge Combany for permission to locate piers. Dr. Thomas Bainey and Lawyers James R. Cuming and Luke F. Cozans repre-Mayor Gilroy said that the plans presented the bridge company were very meagre, and did not indicate the character of the proposed structure or the approaches to it. Dr. Rainey replied that he had brought the plans down oras a matter of courtesy, and that the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund had nothing to do but to grant or to refuse to him the land for the piers, so that if it was refused the company could proceed to condemn the land.

company could proceed to condemn the land. He referred the members of the committee to the charter of the company.

Mayor Gilroy read the law carefully and discovered that Dr. Rainey was right in his statement and that the company has the right to build approaches to the bridge anywhere on Manhattan Island east of Madison avenue and north of Thirty-second street.

Dr. Rainey said that it was not the purrose of the bridge company to bring the approaches below Forty-second street, and he produced a plan showing a railroad connection with the Harlem Railroad variat Forty-eighth street. This approach might be altered, he said, but only within the yard.

Mayor Gilroy and the Comptroller said that, no matter if the law does not give the city authorities any voice in the natter of locating the bridge approaches, the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund propose to provide no pier sites until they are more fully informed as the bridge of the structure. Lawyers Cuming and Cozans promised to give the authorities all the information they may desire at a meeting to be held later.

STATE TAXATION LAWS.

Changes Recommended by Counsel Appointed by the Governor

ALBANY, Feb. 2.-President J. Newton Fiero of the State Par Association and Prof. C. A. Collin, counsel appointed by the Governor under the provisions of last year's statute to investigate and report with reference to a tax law for the State, filed their report to-day, with the draft of a bill. The report discusses the different claims with regard to the basis of taxation as to real and per-sonal property, and calls attention to the fact that there is a difference of opinion among those who think real property only should be taxed as to the method in which it should be assessed. Among those who claim that it should bear the entire burden of taxation one class favors the assessment of the land alone and the other that of the lands and improvement. One class favora an income tax as supplementary to the taxation of real estate, while others insist that all personal property should be entirely free from taxation.

The report says that the deduction allowed for debts is the chief obstacle to assessment of personal property. Another serious difficulty has been the lack of any provisions for its equalization both as a State and local tax. As to real estate there is power to equalize in

As to real estate there is power to equalize in the State Board and also in the Board of Supervisors. But where personal property has been assessed in a locality in a county, and other localities have failed to make any such assessment, there is a manifest injustice under the present laws which has resulted in assessors failing to do their duty. No power now exists to supervise the action of local assessors, which is frequently arbitrary and unjust.

A Board of Tax Commissioners, with an office in Albany and the Comptroller as its Chairman, is recommended, which shall have general supervision over all matters of taxation in the State, except those relating to the sassessment of corporations and the collection of the taxes on taxable transfers, which are retained in the office of the temptroller.

The surplus only of savings make should be taxed as against the bank, and no sum less than $500 on deposit should be assessed in the same manner as bank shares are now assessed.

All the assessors and supervisors in a county should meet and one of the State assessor shall determine the equalization. The state logard of Equalization between the different towns and effices in the county, subject to an appeal, as at présent, to the State Board. The state logard of Equalization is made to consist of State assessors, who are to be increased in number.

The Board of Tax Commissioners is empowered to tax the property of all transmission and canesortation companies, including railronds, delegraph, telephone lines, including railrends, to the dary of the loant to by the value of she entire property of such a corporation running through different towns and counties, and the proportion shall be idaced upon the tax roll in the tax district, thus relieving the local assets entirely.

The corporations organized outside the State must be resident may an organization bax

The Hop Crop of 1892. STRACUSE, Feb. 2 .- The New York Homestead of Syracuse, N. Y., publishes this week a complete report of the hop crop of the United States, based upon special reports from 3,487 plantations in the whole country, of which 2.404 yards are in the State of New York. The aggregate results show an increase of rather ess than 3,000 acres in the 1892 area, as comless than 3,000 acres in the 1892 area, as compared with 1891, and an increased yield for the whole country of 2,020 bales. Chiliognia shows a heavier crop last year than in 1891, the average yield being 8% bales per acre, as compared with 0% bales the year hefore. The Washington crop has decreased, and in New York htate, while the total number of boxes was larger than in 1891, their weight was lighter, thus reducing the average yield in New York State by about 9 pounds actual weight per acre. The Wisconsin crop of 1891 was a total failure, but last year that State harvested 4,877 bales. The total 1892 crop of the country is given at 217,942 bales, as compared with 215,327 bales in 1891.

THUBSDAY, Feb. 2. To-day's stock market was fairly active and irregular. The industrial stocks were strong under the lead of Distilling and Cattle Feeding, but railway shares were inclined to heaviness, owing in part to persistent and effective selling of Reading. Richmond Terminal was an exception to the rule. It was extensively dealt in at a not advance of nearly 1 7 cent. The reason for this buying movement is set forth in another column of THE SUK. The correspondence printed there indicates that there is a probability that the reorganization of the Terminal system may be taken up again by those who are equal to the task, provided they are accorded the cooperation of the security holders.

The selting of Reading and of the other anthracite coal stocks was based upon the pros-pects of legislation adverse to them at Albany.

In a number of the less active stocks, notably Omaha, a disposition to take profits was pro-nounced. There was no change in the market for Sugar Refining, except that the pool orders were not as numerous as they have been the last few days. The new common stock of the National Cordage Company was dealt in for the first time at 71 16 72 5, and was fairly attive. These were the only noteworthy features

There was, as usual of late, no special pressure to sell long stocks, hence the undertone of the market was firm, in spite of the outlook for shipments of about $2,500,000 gold on Saturday. The bond market made an exa demand for good issues that are not payable Final sales compare with those of yesterisy as follows:
